

FoneSync Manual

Thank you for choosing
FoneSync for LG phones

This software enables you to synchronise contacts and calendar entries between a LG phone and Mac OS X.

The demoverision will synchronise the first 5 contacts of your address book and the last 5 calendar events to your LG phone. It can not copy data from the phone to your Macintosh.

As soon as you activate the full version, these limitations will be removed.

Backing up your data

In order to prevent any loss of data in Address Book or iCal, you should backup this data.

To back up your Address Book data on your computer:

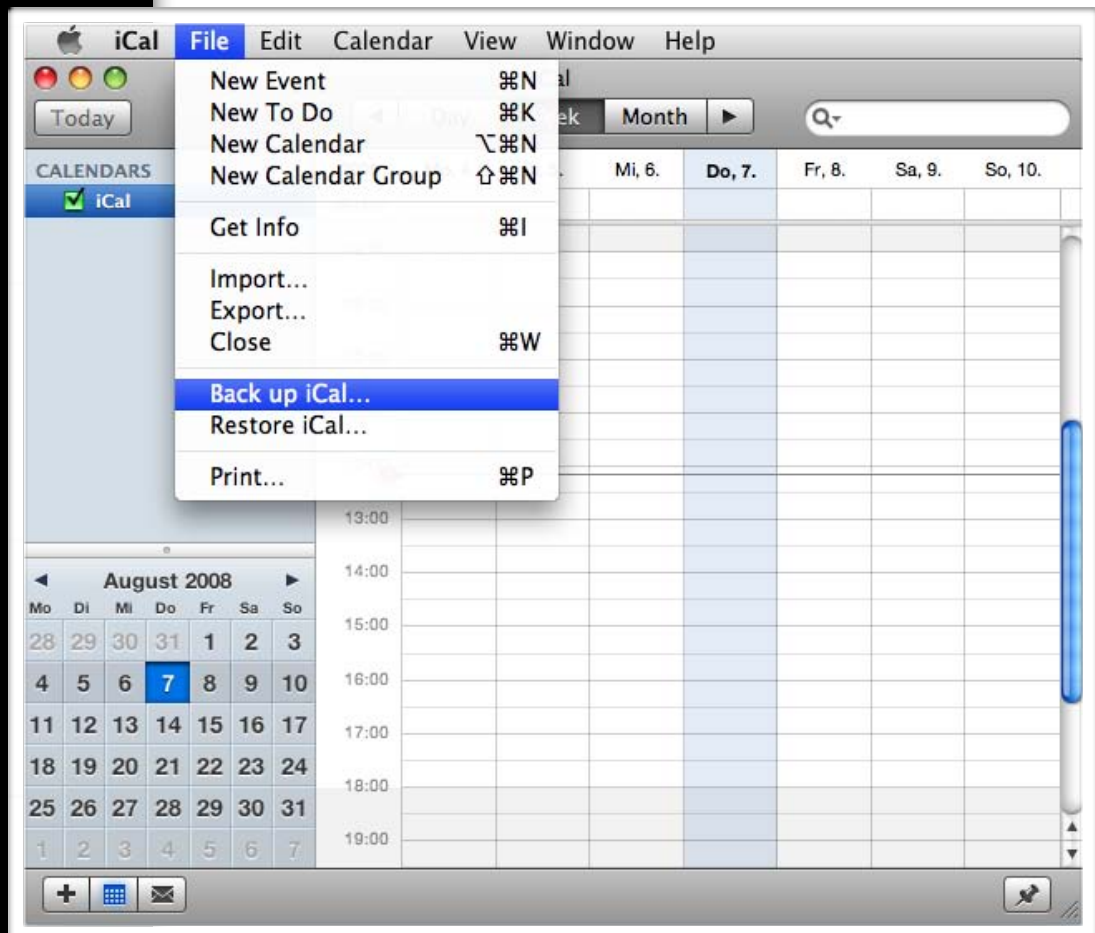

- 1 Open Address Book.
- 2 Click File > Export > Address Book Archive...

To recover Address Book data on your computer

- 1 Open Address Book
- 2 Click File > Import > Address Book Archive....
- 3 Select the backup file you previously saved.

Backing up your data

To backup your iCal data on your computer:

- 1 Open iCal
- 2 Click File > Back up iCal...

To recover your iCal data

- 1 open iCal
- 2 Click File > Restore iCal
- 3 Select the backup file you previously saved.

(These menus can look different in earlier versions of Mac OS X)

Connecting your phone

FoneSync supports USB connections for all supported LG phones.

Connect using USB:

1. Attach the USB cable to the LG phone, then to your Macintosh computer.
2. On the LG phone, select ,iSync' in the list of available connection types .

Important: To see the ,iSync' option you may have to scroll down the menu on the LG phone.

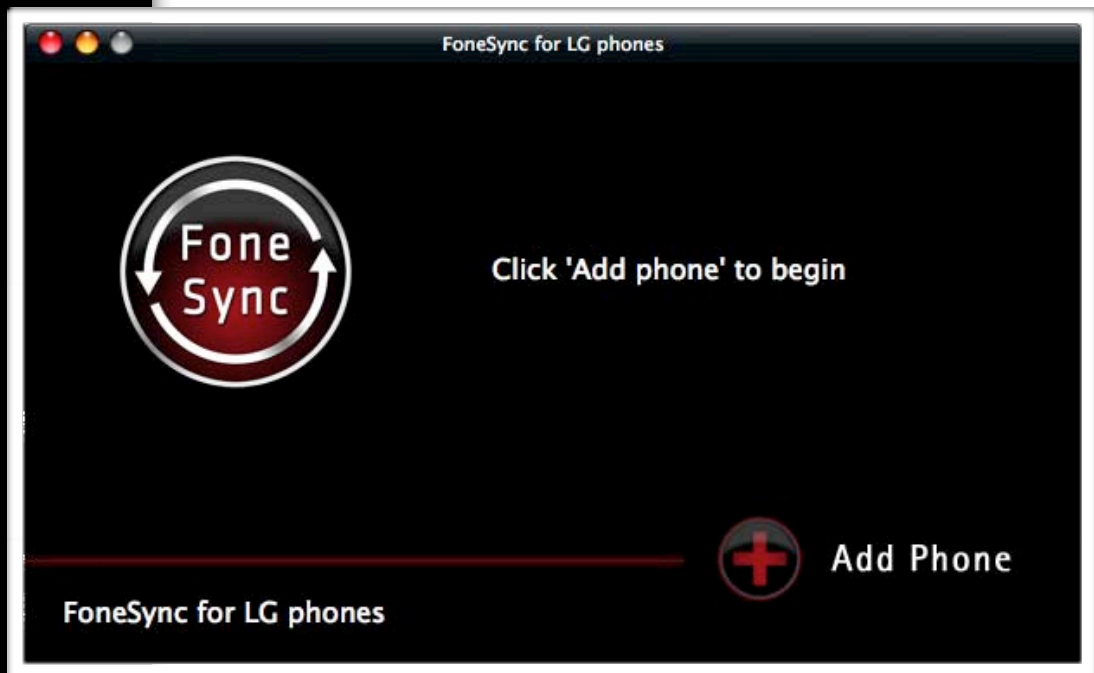

3. Run FoneSync for LG phones.

Using FoneSync

Launch FoneSync

After connecting your phone with your Macintosh via USB, you can launch FoneSync.

You will be asked to add a phone for synchronisation.

Click Add phone.

Using FoneSync

You will see a list of paired phones. Click on the phone you want to use.

If you do not see your phone here, make sure the phone displays the main menu and no submenu is selected.

To start synchronizing your data, you will have to activate FoneSync, which is a one-time process.

Activating FoneSync

FoneSync needs to be activated to be able to synchronize your data.

Click Activate FoneSync to open the activation window. This window prompts you to enter a valid activation key for FoneSync. If you do not have one, you can buy one at our online store at: <http://www.novamedia.de>

Next, enter your e-mail address, click Continue and accept the license terms.

Click Finish to switch back to FoneSync once the activation has been successful.

Important: To use your FoneSync license on another computer, you have to deactivate your license first. Click FoneSync > Deactivate license... to free your license. Then activate FoneSync on the other Mac.

Synchronising data

If you start the synchronisation for the first time, FoneSync will ask you how to proceed with the data already stored on the phone.

You can choose one of these options:

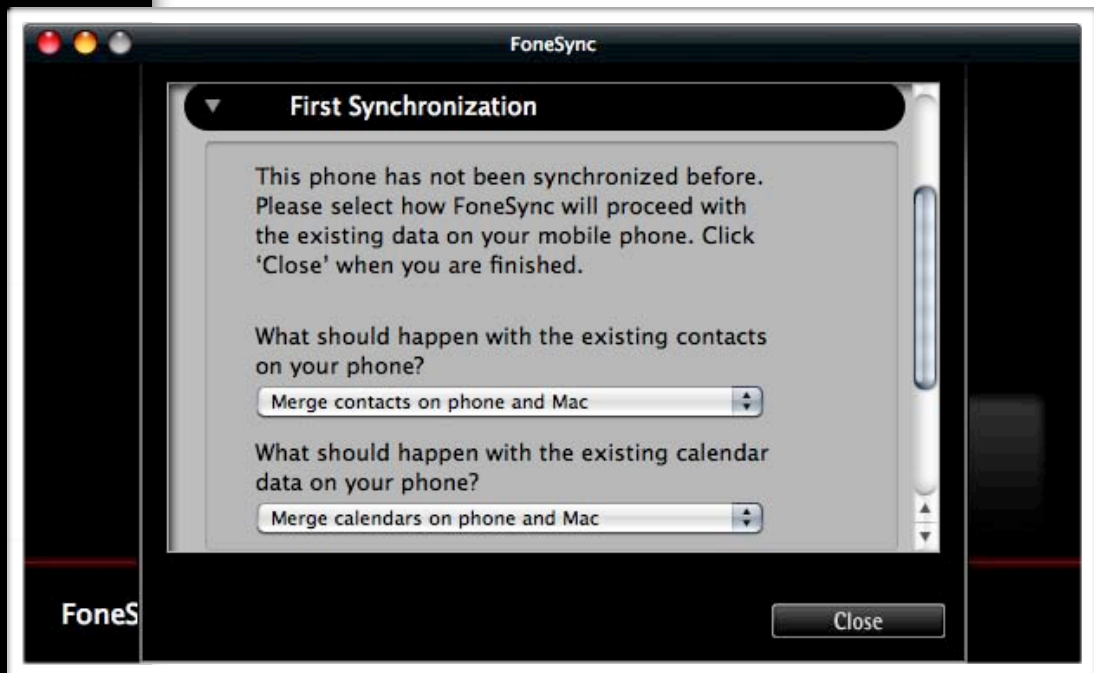

Merge data on phone and Mac. Contacts of the phone will be copied to the Mac and contacts of the Mac will be copied to the phone. Duplicated entries will be deleted.

Delete data on the phone. The data on the phone will be erased and replaced by the data on the Mac.

Click Close when you have selected the desired options. Soon after that, you can start to synchronise your contacts, calendar entries or both.

Synchronising data

To start synchronising your data, click on the appropriate button Sync Contacts, Sync Calendar or Sync All.

Important: Depending on the number of contacts and/or calendar entries, the sync process may take a few minutes.

To further define your synchronisation options, e.g. to sync selected contacts and calendars only, click Sync settings.

Sync settings

You will see a new window, displaying the sync options, starting with the general settings.

Settings:

Select the sync direction. Both directions means, changes on the phone and the Mac will be synchronised.

Macintosh to mobile phone will only synchronise changes made on the Mac to the mobile phone.

Mobile phone to Macintosh will only synchronise changes made on the phone to the Mac.

Sync settings

Synchronising contacts:

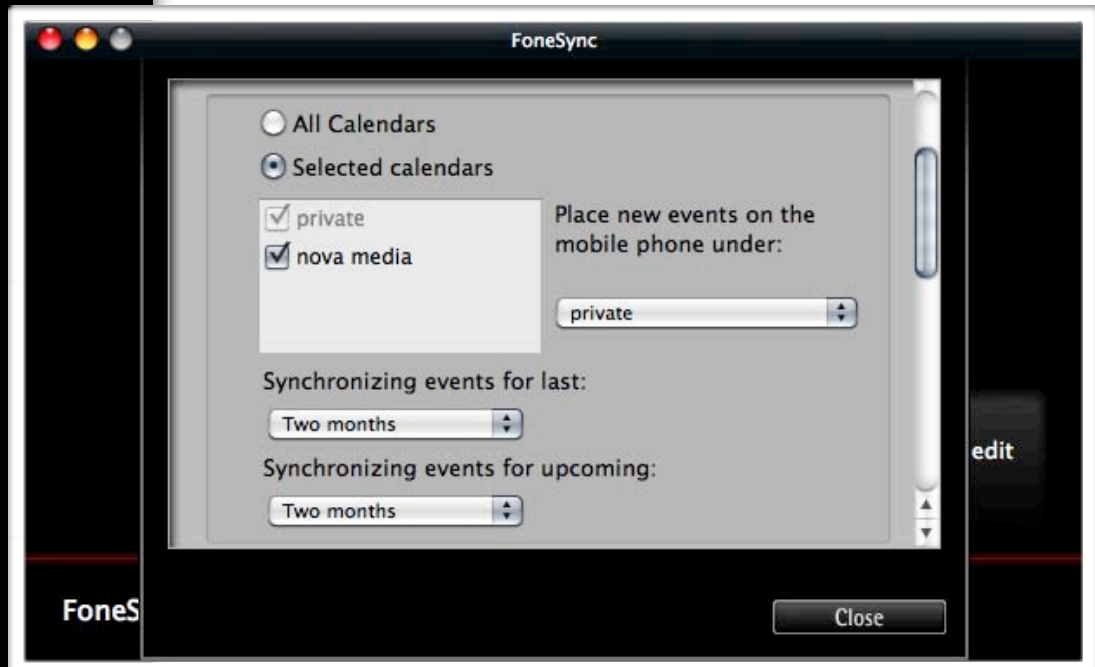

Choose here, if you want to synchronise all contacts or specific address book groups. New contact entries on the phone can be allocated to a specific group.

If you want to synchronize only contacts including a telephone number, check the appropriate box.

Sync settings

Synchronising calendars:

Choose here, if you want to synchronise all calendars or specific calendars only. New calendar entries on the phone can be allocated to a specific calendar.

In addition, you can determine the time frame in which calendar entries will be synchronized with the phone.
